The CCPA in a Nutshell

Does the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA) concern your business? It should.

The CCPA mandates that by January 1, 2020, any business that holds the data of any California resident must be able to act on those citizens' demands that their data be managed correctly. Organizations must provide California residents with ownership, control, and security of their individual data, allowing them to choose how businesses use it.

CCPA Jump Start

Becoming compliant with the CCPA requires a controlled methodology and industry-leading solutions to ensure that your company is able to comply with the CCPA mandate now and in the future.

The delivery of these applications is driven by our CCPA Jump Start assessment. This assessment includes a review of the mandate itself, the gaps your organization faces, and data inventory and sampling, as well as architectural requirements. Prolifics performs data discovery and documentation as a platform for the future. Our Jump Start includes:

- ▶ Preparing your organizational, process, data, and technology demands.
- ▶ Acting on your information and development needs, including assessment, measurement, and monitoring.
- ▶ Complying with the CCPA mandate using an application to deliver on current and future compliance demands.

The CCPA Mandates:

- ▶ Know what personal information you are storing on California residents
- ▶ Know when their information is breached
- ▶ Know whether that data is being sold or disclosed outside of your company
- ▶ Allow your customers to opt out of any data disclosure or sale
- ▶ Provide all data to customers when requested
- ▶ Deliver equality in services and price points regardless of whether customers opt out of data use
